OVERVIEW

Enquiries and complaints received

In 2020-21, the Commission received 15,746 enquiries. In contrast with previous years, a majority of enquiries were received in writing. The main issues related to:

- disability discrimination (17%)
- human rights related issues including immigration and immigration detention (15%)
- racial discrimination including racial hatred (10%)
- COVID-19 pandemic enquiries (10%)
- discrimination on grounds covered by the Sex Discrimination Act (8.5%)
- general employment matters including harassment and bullying (6%)

In 2020-21, the Commission received 3,113 complaints. One complaint may raise a number of grounds and areas of discrimination and be against one or more respondents. If the Commission counted complaints by respondents, the number of complaints received in 2020-21 would increase to 4,120. If the Commission counted complaints received by grounds and areas of discrimination, the number of complaints received would increase to 6,212 and 3,773 respectively.

Consistent with previous years, the main areas of public life raised by complaints were employment and the provision of goods, services and facilities.

In 2020-21:

- 37% of complaints were lodged under the Disability Discrimination Act
- 17% of complaints were lodged under the Racial Discrimination Act
- 16% of complaints were lodged under the Sex Discrimination Act
- 6% of complaints were lodged under the Age Discrimination Act
- 24% of complaints were lodged under the Australian Human Rights Commission Act

In terms of employment, this made up:

- 29% of complaints under the Disability Discrimination Act
- 72% of complaints under the Sex Discrimination Act
- 31% of complaints under the Racial Discrimination Act
- 50% of complaints under the Age Discrimination Act

In terms of goods and services, this made up:

- 55% of complaints under the Disability Discrimination Act
- 20% of complaints under the Sex Discrimination Act
- 41% of complaints under the Racial Discrimination Act
- 32% of complaints under the Age Discrimination Act

Outcomes of complaints

The Commission finalised 2,624 complaints during 2020-21. The Commission conducted approximately 1,517 conciliation processes of which 1,054 complaints (70%) were successfully resolved. This represents successful dispute resolution for more than 2,500 people and organisations involved in complaints before the Commission.

Information on the outcomes of conciliated complaints under federal anti-discrimination law indicates that 38% of outcomes included terms which will have benefits for people beyond the individual complainant. For example, agreements to introduce anti-discrimination policies and provide anti-discrimination training in workplaces and agreements to undertake modifications to buildings and services to address potential discriminatory factors.

Commission survey data also highlights the educative effect of the Commission's complaint process. For example, in relation to conciliated complaints, 79% of surveyed participants indicated that involvement in the complaint process had assisted them to better understand their rights and responsibilities under federal human rights and anti-discrimination law.

Data provided to the Commission indicates that in 2020-21, approximately 2% of finalised complaints regarding unlawful discrimination proceeded to court.

COVID-19 pandemic related matters

The Commission received approximately 2,059 COVID-19 pandemic related enquiries in 2020-21. The main areas of concern were:

- Lockdown and state/territory border restrictions
- Quarantine
- Travel ban and passenger arrival caps
- Mask wearing requirements

In 2020-21, the Commission received 885 COVID-19 pandemic related complaints. These constituted:

- 288 complaints under the Disability Discrimination Act
- 34 complaints under the Sex Discrimination Act
- 59 complaints under the Racial Discrimination Act
- 46 complaints under the Age Discrimination Act
- 458 complaints under the Australian Human Rights Commission Act

In 2020-21, the Commission finalised 561 COVID-19 pandemic related complaints. These constituted:

- 179 complaints under the Disability Discrimination Act
- 23 complaints under the Sex Discrimination Act
- 69 complaints under the Racial Discrimination Act
- 31 complaints under the Age Discrimination Act
- 259 complaints under the Australian Human Rights Commission Act

Finalisation of complaints without inquiry

Upon receipt and acceptance of a complaint, the President (or her delegate) must consider whether a complaint should be terminated without inquiry, having regard to the grounds of termination in section 46PH of the Australian Human Rights Commission Act 1986 (Cth) (AHRCA).

In 2020-21, of the 3,113 complaints received by the Commission, 116 (5% of total complaints received) were assessed as potentially being appropriate for pre-inquiry termination under subsection 46PF(1) of the AHRCA.

These constituted:

- 58 complaints under the Disability Discrimination Act
- 35 complaints under the Racial Discrimination Act
- 9 complaints under the Sex Discrimination Act
- 14 complaints under the Age Discrimination Act

Timeliness of the complaint process

In 2020-21, the average active complaint handling timeframe was approximately 4.1 months. A breakdown by periods indicates that of the 2,624 complaints finalised in 2020-21:

- 32% were finalised within 3 months
- 79% were finalised within 6 months
- 95% were finalised within 9 months
- 98% were finalised within 12 months

Demographic data

The available demographic data indicates that in 2020-21:

- 45% of complaints were lodged by individual females
- 48% of complaints were lodged by individual males
- 7% of complaints were lodged by other categories (other categories include intersex, sex not specified, joint/multiple complainants, organisations and unknown).

When asked about a referral source, 21% of complainants reported that they knew about the Commission prior to lodging their complaint. The other main identified referral sources were private lawyers (11%), family members (6%), the internet (4%), community legal centres (2.5%), and specialist advocacy agencies such as advocacy agencies for people with disabilities, women, migrants or Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples (1%).

Where an income source was identified, a majority of complainants indicated that their main source of income at the time of the alleged act was from a form of employment. Of the 1,137 complainants who identified a form of employment as their income source, 78% indicated they were in full or part-time permanent employment, 18% were engaged in casual, contract or outwork and 4% were self-employed.

Approximately 940 (30%) of complainants said they were represented during the complaint process. Of the represented complainants, 44% said they were represented by privately funded solicitors. Other identified forms of representation were family members or friends (35%), community legal centres, including Aboriginal or disability legal services (12%), other advocacy groups such as working women's centres or disability advocacy services (7%) and trade unions or professional associations (2%).

In 2020-21, the main respondent organisation categories were private enterprises (47%), Commonwealth departments/statutory authorities (27%) and state/territory departments/statutory authorities (10%). These are consistently the main respondent organisation categories.

Satisfaction with the complaint service

We seek feedback on aspects of the service from people lodging complaints (complainants) and people responding to complaints (respondents). The survey can be completed online or in other formats. Feedback is sought regardless of the outcome of the complaint and includes feedback from parties where the complaint was terminated, withdrawn or discontinued.

In 2020-21, 232 complainants and 231 respondents agreed to participate in the survey. Details of survey feedback is provided below.

- 90% of participants (82% of complainants and 98% of respondents) reported that they were satisfied with the service provided and 73% of participants (63% of complainants and 82% of respondents) rated the service as 'very good' or 'excellent'. Where complaints were conciliated, these figures increased with 96% of participants reporting they were satisfied with the service and 84% rating the service as 'very good' or 'excellent'.
- 92% of participants (86% of complainants and 98% of respondents) felt that Commission staff explained things in a way that was easy for them to understand.
- 92% of participants (86% of complainants and 98% of respondents) felt that forms and correspondence from the Commission were easy to understand.
- 74% of participants (63% of complainants and 86% of respondents) felt that the Commission dealt with the complaint in a timely manner.
- 88% of participants (78% of complainants and 97% of respondents) felt they were treated fairly.

Our Charter of Service provides an avenue through which complainants and respondents can understand the nature and standard of service they can expect, as well as contribute to continual improvement of our service. All complainants are provided with a copy of the Charter when their complaint is accepted by the Commission. Respondents receive a copy when notified of a complaint. Our Charter of Service is available at <http://www.humanrights.gov.au/complaints-charter-service>.

In 2020-21, the Commission did not receive any complaint about its service under the complaint process provided in the Charter.
